Graphic Designer

Mid-Level

Starting Salary: £24,075 - £26,750

Engaging Education is more than a creative agency. We're a team of more than 30 innovators and problem solvers with a track record of producing outstanding creative services. Ultimately, our mission in everything we do is to support good people to do great things. We deliver branding, marketing and communication materials that break down barriers and create impact for partners across the UK and beyond.

Position Overview

As a Mid-Level Designer at Engaging Education, you will work, and lead on a wide variety of visual communication material, from brand identity and print materials to digital/web design and large-scale interior projects. You will be given a high level of ownership, enabling you to utilise and build on your creative talents.

Key Responsibilities

- Liaise with Projects and Partnership Managers (and communicate directly with clients where appropriate) to understand and deliver project and client needs.
- Work with other team members to develop concepts and ideas.
- Deliver exciting and engaging design solutions with a high level of quality and attention to detail.
- Contribute new design ideas to add to the service of Engaging Education.
- Articulate design decisions well and offer constructive feedback for other creatives in the team.
- Manage time and multiple projects effectively within your schedule.
- Offer positive support and guidance for Junior Designers.
- Consistently demonstrate the Engaging Education values both internally and externally.
- Ensure high levels of communication across all internal and external networks.
